How to Become a Military Officer in the Italian Armed Forces:

The basic education and training of the officers of the Italian Army, Navy, Air Force and Gendarmerie (Carabinieri) rests on a network of three structures: the Military Academy – training both Army and Gendarmerie officers – the Naval Academy and the Air Force Academy.

These institutions organise the basic academic education as well as the vocational training of the future military elites upon direct recruitment but it collaborates also with civilian universities as concerns the organisation of specialised academic curricula, such as in the engineering sciences. Every Italian officer must obtain a master degree, which is organised in a different way and with different lengths according to the service and the military profession chosen by the military student.

One must also note that, in the Italian basic education system, the academies are fully integrated in the European Higher Education Area. They have pushed this integration forward in including the vocational training into the scope of the master curriculum, making the training a pillar of equal value to the academic training for the award of the commissioning diploma.

An exchange culture

Number of military students sent abroad on an exchange in 2013-2014: 4

Italy and the Military Academy have a reliable experience and a solid tradition of mobility in both academic and vocational fields. It regularly hosts military students coming from its international, but also European, counterparts for benefiting from the excellence of the education and training provided. They have notably a strong experience in the full-curricula exchanges aimed at training in the premises of the Academy officers for foreign armed forces.

Before and beyond basic education

The future military officers are recruited among the young nationals who are graduated from secondary education and who have successfully complied with medical, physical and psychological standards as well as a basic knowledge of the English language. In addition, the candidates must succeed at a general knowledge examination (including, history, geography, civics) and attend a training that lasts for a maximum of 60 days.

In the course of their career, the Italian Carabinieri officers will receive additional education and training at an advanced level, in Gendarmerie and joint institutions, such as the Centre for Higher Defence Studies.
