

HELLENIC NAVAL ACADEMY

Hellenic Naval Academy

Maritime Security of the EU

Residential Phase: 1 – 5 April 2019

Hellenic Naval Academy

Maritime Security of the EU

Invitations were sent to the Academies in December 2018

Arrival day: 31 March 19 (no later than 20:00)

Departure day: no sooner than 5 April 19 (16:00)

Maximum availability: 40 cadets/students/officers

Tuition, accommodation and meals are free of charge

Hellenic Naval Academy

Prerequisites for international participants

- English: Common European Framework of Reference for
- Languages (CEFR) Level B1 or NATO STANAG Level 2
- At least 2 years of national military education
- Basic knowledge of International Politics, EU, CFSP, CSDP, preferably via the ESDC IDL (AKU 1 and AKU 2).

Hellenic Naval Academy

Goal of the Module

Introduction of the contemporary maritime security environment and familiarization of officer students with Maritime Security Concepts.

Hellenic Naval Academy

Learning outcomes

- Europeanization of officer training
- History
- Maritime Security concept
- Current threats and Challenges
- Contemporary International Law Framework
- EU/CSDP MS Operations lessons learned
- European Union Maritime Security Strategy
- Maritime Security Concept under State actors strategies

Hellenic Naval Academy

Learning outcomes - Knowledge

- Regional Aspects and Initiatives
- EU Missions and Operations
- Roles and Mandate of Armed Forces
- Maritime Surveillance and Policing
- Technology Usage
- Maritime transport infrastructure Security Needs
- Cross-sectoral cooperation and interoperability

Hellenic Naval Academy

Learning outcomes - Skills

- Extended knowledge of the contemporary maritime security environment
- Identify, understand, and analyze maritime security issues
- Acquire the skills to conduct original research and analysis on contemporary maritime security issues

Hellenic Naval Academy

Learning outcomes - Competences

- Demonstrate relevant knowledge and understanding of the notion and different aspects of maritime security
- Apply methodological tools for analysis of maritime security policy, and produce written argumentation on security topics and policy recommendations
- Identify, understand, and analyze maritime security issues

Hellenic Naval Academy

ATHENS WELCOMES YOU!