

EUMACS 2020

Hamburg, 18th August 2020

Dear Rector, dear Rector - Commandant, dear President!

These are challenging times we all are living through, yet, we all share one purpose: We hold on to our mission!

It is my honour to invite you to the European Military Academies Commandants' Seminar 2020 (EUMACS 2020) which will be hosted this year by the Helmut Schmidt University / University of the German Armed Forces Hamburg. We keep the date that has been publicized:

October 29 to October 31, 2020

Please, find a preliminary program and an application form together with a communication on administrative information attached. As a major topic I like to suggest discussing the European Universities Initiative. And I have invited a renowned expert to meet with us. This way our conference might break new ground.

We would kindly like to ask you and one assistant from your institution to register your application by

The point of contact is Dr. Martin Nassua, Director International Office, HSU/UniBw Hamburg, contact details and further minutes will be provided in the information sheet.

We all leave the summer period tested to consolidate our institutions for the regular fall term. Nobody is able to tell today how at that time the COVID19 pandemic will have a lock on us. My intention is to keep up our important conference and to offer to all of you who will be able to attend physically our hospitality here in Hamburg. If some of you due to international and national regulations will be forestalled to participate in person we shall offer the opportunity for an on-line involvement.

Yours sincerely

Prof. Dr. Klaus B. Beckmann
President
