

Dear Commandants/Rectors,

As the Commandant of the Polish Air Force University (PAFU), together with my staff and cadets, I am delighted to invite your cadets to participate in Civil Military Cooperation & Host Nation Support in the Current Security Environment Course, which is due to take place on 21st and 30th of November 2022 at the Polish Air Force University, under the framework of the European Initiative for the Exchange of Military Young Officers EMILYO.

We are looking forward to welcoming your cadets in our premises to introduce them to PAFU history and infrastructure, as well as to provide education, socializing, sports and cultural activities.

The course will consist of several workshops and lectures covering different topics, such as civil military cooperation, security issues and its threats along with varied cultural, sports and social activities including participation in the PAFU Cadet's Day. During the visit, both the host organization and the attendees are required to give short presentations about their institutions in which they will have the opportunity to share interesting details about their academies/universities and exchange experiences.

Polish Air Force University will provide free lodging and meals during the event to all participants. No participation fee is required, transportation to and from Dęblin railway station or bus station will also be provided. The attendees are asked to arrive to Dęblin on 21st of November 2022 and depart from Dęblin on 30th November 2022.

Please kindly accept our invitation to the event and confirm your attendance by filling in the registration form attached to this letter, and send it to our POC (Mr Marek Gawryjolek, International Cooperation Office, m.gawryjolek@law.mil.pl, +48 261 517 127) no later than 23rd of October 2022. Additional information and the initial programme will be sent out to each POC in due time. Please do not hesitate to contact our POC if any questions occur.

I look forward to welcoming your cadets at the Polish Air Force University, the legendary School of Eaglets!

Yours sincerely

Commandant
