TEULIÈ HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

- The “Teulié” Military School dates back to 1802, when the Napoleonic General Pietro TEULIÈ founded a military orphanage.
- In its history the Military School was closed down several times and re-named differently: in 1839 the Austro-Hungarian Emperor Ferdinand I transformed the school into the Cadet Imperial Royal College, thus making it similar to any other Austrian military institution.
- The school was closed down after the Second World War in 1943 and re-opened in 1996.
- In 2000, the “Teulié” Military School was awarded the Honorary Citizenship of Milan.
- The Flag of the institution has been decorated with the Italian Army bronze medal for military valour.
