

Peace
Security &
Prosperity

Our Vision

As proven since time immemorial, social, economic, cultural and technological Prosperity can only be built on the basis of Peace and Security for all, Peace and Security that rely on a capacity to apply force to ensure Justice while safeguarding Democracy and Freedom.

Our Mission

To bring together leaders, policy-makers, researchers, students, and the wider public with representatives of justice, public order and the profession of arms through conferences, online events, and publications in order explore the role of the military and the institutions of public order and justice in establishing the basis for a flourishing peace and prosperity.

Our Approach

The founding concept is that without justice, there can be no peace; without security, there can be no justice. Only when justice and security enable freedom can sustainable peace support the development of a society and its ultimate prosperity.
