

The challenges of integrating culture and gender perspectives in professional military education when everyone is for it

Kjetil Enstad, Associate Professor, The Norwegian Defense University College

2020 was supposed to be a once-in-a-generation opportunity for women and girls. The year when governments, businesses, organisations and individuals who believe in equal treatment for all people were going to develop a five-year plan for how to work together to accelerate progress for gender equality, in celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action. Then COVID-19 struck. Now, 2020 risks being a year of irreversible setbacks and lost progress for girls. Unless the world acts fast and decisively, the impact on girls' futures – and on all our futures – will be devastating. (Szabo & Edwards, 2020, p. ii)

How COVID-19 is putting progress in peril

[...] a system of inherited conceptions expressed in symbolic forms by means of which men communicate, perpetuate, and develop their knowledge about and attitudes toward life. (Geertz, 1973, p. 89)

[...] the process of assessing the implications for women and men of any planned action, including legislation, policies or programs, in all areas and at all levels. (United Nations, 1999, p. 24).

5 Gardekompani hadde lueløp. For de nye på gardeleieren skal de gjennom et såkalt lueløp for å bli ekte gardister ikke aspiranter. Lueløpet er en mestringsøvelse som går på flere døgn eller litt over et døgn, det spør om deltakerene skal på vakt eller ikke, dette er pga krav på søvn vis du skal stå vakt. Kp 5 har ikke vakthold i utgangspunktet så deres lueløp varer i 3 dager. Aspirantene vet ikke hva som sker uansett tid så dette er en hard øvelse psykisk og fysisk. Alle skal fullføre et lueløp, det er ikke noe du kan trekke deg typ vis du trækker over så må makker lage en bære til deg så må lage bære deg gjennom øvelsene.

The education to become a soldier in His Majesty's King's Guard is quite demanding, and the soldiers have to excel in the tasks given to them. The main training period is ended with a surprise exercise, and after completing this they can finally put the characteristic hat on and call themselves "Gardist".

...signs of a wrestling to make the thought fit into the language, to make the language express the thought, signs perhaps even of an incapacity of language to express certain thoughts, or of thought unable to think itself out because of the limitations of its medium[.] (Coetzee, 1992, p. 184)

"Now! . . . That should clear up a few things around here!"
