3 About Belgium

Belgium is a small country (30 667 km²) with a population of 11,75 million inhabitants. It has been a constitutional monarchy since 1830. There are three languages (Dutch, French and German). The three regions (Flanders, Wallonia and Brussels) have self-government in many jurisdictions. Belgium has retained its old-warm charm in the preservation of its ancient buildings and historical traditions. The time in Belgium is one hour ahead of the GMT.

Torhout is situated in West-Flanders and has a population of around 22 864 persons.

Bruges (in French and English, Brugge in Flemish), is the capital and the largest city of the Flemish province of West Flanders. It is one of Europe's most beautifully conserved medieval cities, famous for its cobbled streets, and skyline of towers.

Nicknamed the "Venice of the North", Bruges was once a thriving trading hub, the city's wealth grew during the Middle Ages, its historic centre presently remains an outstanding example of medieval urban ensemble, now protected as a UNESCO World Heritage site.

5 About Defence & security

The education Defence & security was founded in 2021 and started on behalf of the Belgian army. It's a technical secondary school education form of 2 years (age 16 – 18).

We offer a high-quality education that prepares young people for a job in the private or public security sector.

This new course prepares young people for selection and recruitment for security professions in the army, justice and interior.

9 Weather expectations for May

The weather in Belgium in May is generally pleasant and mild, often considered one of the nicer spring months, although changeable conditions are still possible.

Here are the main averages for May in Belgium:

Temperatures: during the day, temperatures are usually between 15 °C and 21 °C. At night and in the early morning, it can still be chilly, with temperatures around 6 °C to 12 °C.

Precipitation: May is a relatively mild month, but expect an average of 12 rainy days and total precipitation of around 47 to 69 mm throughout the month.

Sunshine: there is often a fair amount of sunshine, averaging around 7 hours per day.

Tips for May:

- Layered clothing: the weather can vary from sunny to cool and rainy. Dress in layers.
- Coat: a warm coat is recommended for the cooler mornings and evenings.
- Umbrella: an umbrella or raincoat is not a luxury.

Please note: In recent years (such as in 2025), May can sometimes start off very sunny and warm, with temperatures locally reaching 25-28 degrees.

10 From the airport to Bruges

Bruges has no airport, so travellers typically arrive via Brussels Airport (Zaventem) or Brussels South Airport (Charleroi). Here's what to do when landing at each:

10.1 Brussels Airport (Zaventem)

Step 1 - Train to Brussels

Inside the airport, follow signs for "TRAIN / RAILWAY STATION" (Level -1).

Step 2 - Train to Bruges

From Brussels Airport → Bruges, travel time is about 1h30

with one transfer at:

Brussels-Nord, Brussels-Central, or Brussels-Midi.

Tickets

- Buy at the blue machines or via the SNCB app.
- Price: ~ € 21,00 – € 25,00 (one way).

10.2 Brussels South Airport (Charleroi)

Shuttle Bus to Brussels Midi

- Direct shuttle "Flibco" to Brussels-Midi station.
- Duration: 1h
- Price: € 17,00 – € 20,00

Direct Flibco bus to Bruges exists at certain times (approx. 2h15).

From Brussels-Midi → Bruges, 1h direct trains run frequently.

11 Local transportation

Brugge Station is 15–20 minutes away from the historical centre on foot.

Bus lines 1 and 2 take you to the centre of Bruges.

- Bus line 1 (towards "Sint-Kruis"): get off at stop 't Zand, Sint-Salvatorskathedraal, O.L.V. Kerk or Dijver.
- Bus line 2 (towards "P+R Coiseau"): get off at stop 't Zand, Sint-Salvatorskathedraal, O.L.V. Kerk, Dijver, Stadsschouwburg or Jan Van Eyckplein.
